Kiva Allgood
Chief Commercial Development Officer
GE Ventures

Kiva is the Chief Commercial Development Officer at GE Ventures. In her current role, Kiva is building a high-performing commercial development and market intelligence practice within GE Ventures. Together with her team, Kiva focuses on scaling GE Ventures' commercial impact through ecosystem development, partnerships, strategic planning and world-class programs.

Kiva started her career at GE in 1999 and was excited to return in 2016 as the Managing Director of New Business Creation. She brings over two decades of telecommunications, mobile and digital experience to her role. Most recently she was the President of Smart Cities and Industrial IoT for Qualcomm Intelligent Solutions. While at Qualcomm she helped strategic partners and cities drive digital transformation and connectivity adoption including LinkNYC. As both an intrapreneur and entrepreneur, she also ran a Colorado based startup and lead it's funding raising and board efforts. She also held executive positions at Motorola and GE. Kiva has an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University and a bachelor's degree in Science from Northwestern University.

In 2016, she was named to the list of Top 50 Industrial IoT 5G Industrialists and Innovators. She was also an honoree of the 2016 Women of M2M. Kiva holds board seats with CleanTech San Diego and Teen Volunteers in Action and serves on the Selection Committee for EvoNexus. As a passionate student of technology innovation she is a frequent lecturer, speaker and mentor at Kellogg, UCSD and UCI. She is based in San Diego with her husband and two sons. She is an avid skier and sailor, and loves to read. She started her career at Walt Disney World as a costume character—although she won't reveal which one.

Cory Kidd
CEO and Founder
Catalia Health

Cory Kidd is the founder and CEO of Catalia Health, a patient care management company. The company develops a hardware and software platform that uses a combination of psychology and artificial intelligence to engage patients through interactive conversations. These conversations happen through mobile, web, and interactive robotic interfaces; together these interfaces create a relationship that can reach patients at any time they need support. The data reported back through the system gives Catalia Health's customers valuable information to understand the daily activities and needs of their patients.

Kidd is a serial entrepreneur who has been working in healthcare technology for nearly two decades. He received his MS and PhD at the MIT Media Lab in human-robot interaction and his BS in computer science at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Sangbae Kim

Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering
MIT Department of Mechanical Engineering

Sangbae Kim, is the director of the Biomimetic Robotics Laboratory and an associate professor of Mechanical Engineering at MIT. His research focuses on the bio-inspired robot design by extracting principles from animals. Kim's achievements on bio-inspired robot development include the world's first directional adhesive inspired from gecko lizards, and a climbing robot, Stickybot, that utilizes the directional adhesives to climb smooth surfaces featured in TIME's best inventions in 2006. Recent achievement includes the development of the MIT Cheetah capable of stable outdoor running up to 13mph and jumping over any obstacles autonomously. This achievement was covered by more than 200 media articles. He is a recipient of best paper award from International Conference on Robotics and Automation (2007), King-Sun Fu Memorial Transactions on Robotics (2008) and IEEE/ASME transactions on mechatronics (2016), DARPA Young Faculty Award (2013), NSF CAREER award (2014), and Ruth and Joel Spira Award for Distinguished Teaching (2015).

John Carrier

Senior Lecturer, System Dynamics

MIT Sloan School of Management

John Carrier is a senior lecturer in the System Dynamics Group at the MIT Sloan School of Management and Managing Director of 532 Partners. His expertise is in shaping the dynamics of operating environments to improve productivity, quality, safety, and morale simultaneously. He has helped companies save hundreds of millions of dollars by helping them find and eradicate the hidden systems lurking inside every operation. His current focus is to help prepare companies to compete in the new environment of Industry 4.0.

He has educated over five hundred top-level leaders in the MIT Sloan Executive Education program in Oil & Gas, petrochemicals, mining, and healthcare. When not teaching, he spends most of his time in the operating environment, working directly with the front line to deliver measurable results in less than sixty days.

Dr. Carrier holds a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the University of Michigan, a Ph.D. in Control Systems from MIT, and an MBA from the Harvard Business School.
